Food for the Flock

Thanks Chase Cathcart, St. Mary parishioner, for building both parishes' web sites from scratch, more work than you might think. They have a limited amount of content now, but are designed for easier posting and minimal cost.

Chase—who is heading to Franciscan University in the fall—spent countless hours over the past year working on the websites on top of all his many other responsibilities. As a thank you, I've given him a little help from each parish for his college bills; if anyone wants to contribute, let me know.

New Saint Boniface Sign thanks to Brian Quinter of Quint Custom Signs, in front of the office. It looks great and is up to date.

Pro Life Committee: Greg & Donna Johnson generously accepted my invitation to help me build up a pro life committee for our parishes. Organizational meeting July 10, 2008, in St. Boniface Room at Caserta Center, around 7:30 pm—they will start the meeting as soon as festival meeting ends! This is a "get in on the ground floor" situation, so please come.

Women's Center in Sidney. St. Mary parishioner Larry Wilberding invited me to tour the new facilities recently. Larry works with this and three other women's centers in the area. They provide a free pregnancy test, counseling, diapers and clothing, classes and many other resources. They save unborn children from abortion and help women in troubled situations. They need material and volunteer help: a critical need is "mentor mothers" to take inexperienced mothers under their wing. Call: (937) 498-4425.

Splendors from Saint Peter exhibit in Cleveland till July 18. Includes recreation of the tomb of St. Peter and Sistine Chapel Save $2 by calling (888) 5VATICAN, mention discount code "parish."

Welcome home: Maruja & Ted Gutmann-Gonzales, lay Maryknoll missionaries, at all Masses July 12-13.

Also, we will have a donut-and-coffee reception after the 9 and 10:30 am Masses so you can visit with the Gutmann-Gonzales family.

—Fr. Martin
